For many companies, success generates success. The same can be said for Terrazzo & Marble Supply. T&M is completely employee-owned and operated, with a business model that caters to a network of affiliated designers. As each designer grows in strength, so does the company. Liz McParland, a T&M Design Consultant, says, “We offer our clients high-quality materials, enabling designers to develop and build unique spaces that are envisioned by both the client and design team.” Aurelia Drozdal, Design Channel Representative, describes how the smallest of details can have the biggest impact. She says, “Using natural stone with unique edges like fluting, aprons and waterfall edging is gaining popularity. These details work beautifully in modern, minimalist and even classic spaces by adding a touch of sophistication without overwhelming the design.”

“AS A SUPPLIER OF PREMIUM NATURAL STONE, WE OFFER LASTING ELEGANCE FROM HIGH-QUALITY MATERIALS THAT STAND THE TEST OF TIME.”

Trend Report

Andrea Goldman, the Principal Designer for Andrea Goldman Design, works frequently with the T&M team. Here, she shares the top five requests she is seeing from clients.

- Breakfast Areas: Kitchen breakfast spaces are a must with today’s homeowners.
- Lounging Spaces: Primary suites are being outfitted with dedicated areas for relaxing.
- Cozy Nooks: Clients want a serene space separate from the great room for lounging.
- Home Bars: Many of our clients want a bar area for mixing friends and drinks.
- Private Privies: Separate water closet spaces in the primary bathrooms are very popular.

Goldman adds, “Almost everything is a blank canvas for us, so we have lots of freedom and the ability to focus on client priorities. From new builds to renovations, we are usually given lots of room and flexibility for our designs.”
